MARKET IS BOOMING

Good Sales Reported at Three Maysville Houses Yesterday—Average Remains Around $21 Mark.

Tobacco sales on the Maysville market yesterday totaled 677,150 pounds, only three houses selling. Prices ranged from $5 to $59 and the average was around the $24 mark.

All of the growers who have been selling here for the past few days are greatly pleased with the prices received and the fine weather is causing a great influx of the weed, which is coming by road, by river and by rail. Farmers will make no mistake by selling on the Maysville market.

Maysville market will have sales on Monday.

FORMER MAYSVILLE GIRL WEDS

The following notices are taken from the Manila papers of the marriage of Mrs. Evelyn Wyeth and Mr. Edward Beverly Scott. Mrs. Scott will be remembered as Miss Evelyn Phister, one of Maysville's most charming young ladies. She is a niece of Captain C. M. Phister and ex-congressman E. C. Phister.

"The greatest perfection but simplicity of detail marked the ceremony on Thursday evening which united Mr. Edward Beverly Scott and Mrs. Evelyn Wyeth in marriage. The beautiful Episcopal marriage service was read by Rev. B. L. B. Parson, dean of the Cathedral of St. Mary and St. John, where the wedding took place in the presence of a few relatives and intimate friends of the bride and groom."

"The bride's striking blonde beauty was enhanced by a gown of rare cream colored flax and a hat to match of cream colored chiffon and her bouquet was of deep cream orchids."

"Mr. and Mrs. Scott have motored to Baguio for their honeymoon and upon their return to Manila will be at home to their friends at the Manila Hotel until later in the year when they leave for a trip to India."

OFFICIAL NOTICE

Of Suspension of Monday Closing Order Received By County Fuel Administrator Browning From State Administrator—Section No. 1 Still in Force.

County Fuel Administrator S. P. Browning is in receipt of the following order from the State Fuel Administrator:

To Chairmen County Federal Fuel Committee:

In view of the improved weather and transportation conditions, and favorable results already obtained by reason of its operation, the conservation order of January 17th is hereby indefinitely suspended, with the exception of Section No. 1, which reads as follows:

"Until further order of the United States Fuel Administrator, all persons selling fuel in whatever capacity shall, in filling their contracts or orders now on hand, give preference to necessary current requirements of: Railroads, domestic consumers, hotels, charitable institutions, army and navy cantinuous, public utilities, hydroelectric power plants supplying gas for household use, telephone and telegraph plants, shipping for bunker purposes for the United States, for strictly governmental purposes (not including factories or plants working on contracts for the United States) manufacturers of perishable food or of food for necessary immediate consumption, and municipal, county or state governments for necessary public uses. Any tonnage remaining, after the foregoing referred shipments have been made, may be applied in filling any other contracts or orders."

The foregoing section is still in force and effect, and priority in the filling of contracts and orders as enumerated therein should be adhered to.

The State Fuel Administrator is authorized by the order of the Fuel Administrator to use his discretion as to continuing the order within his state, however, under favorable conditions prevailing at this time, it is in my judgment unnecessary to continue to enforce the order.

The splendid spirit manifested by the people of the state of Kentucky in cheerfully complying with this "closing order" has been a source of much gratification.

Please permit me to thank you and express my sincere appreciation of the splendid co-operation accorded by your committee in interpreting and carrying out the terms of this order.

Yours very truly,
W. B. BRYAN,
Federal Fuel Administrator, Kentucky.

FUNERAL THIS MORNING

The remains of Miss Lillie Riggs, who died last Thursday morning in Cincinnati, will arrive this morning at 10 o'clock over the C. & O. and will be taken direct to the Charter Oak cemetery, just across the river, where the rites of the Episcopal church will be said at the grave. She was a member of the Church of the Nativity, this city.

$300 OFFERED HIM

If "He Would Forget," Testifies Witness in Case Against Fred Schatzmann, of Russellville, Ohio, and Well Known Here.

Yesterday's Cincinnati Enquirer said:

Government witnesses appearing before United States Commissioner Adler yesterday in connection with the examination of Fred Schatzmann, Russellville, Ohio, wealthy retired merchant and farmer, charged with having made threats against President Wilson, testified they had been approached by the defendant and his brother, C. R. Schatzmann, President of the Bank of Russellville.

Harry L. Gustin, Russellville, clerk in the general store of Forest Beltz, at Russellville, testified Schatzmann and his brother visited him in the store a few days ago and offered him $300 if "he would forget."

G. M. Robinson, another clerk in the store, testified the Schatzmann brothers begged him to "do the best he could for Fred," calling his attention to their long friendship to himself and family.

These two witnesses testified they were in the general store when Fred Schatzmann made the remarks concerning the President charged in the Government's warrant of arrest. Similar testimony was given by J. W. Bailey, Russellville, who said he was a customer. Postmaster G. E. Freeman and Town Marshal Harry Hafer were present, but were not called upon to testify.

At the conclusion of the hearing, C. R. Schatzmann denied either he or his brother had offered $300 or any sum whatever to Gustin.

Judge Adler held Schatzmann to the Federal Grand Jury in $3,000 bond. It was given and Schatzmann was released.

REVIVAL CONTINUES

The revival meetings at the First Presbyterian Church will continue over Sunday. No service tonight. Rev. J. Russell Crawford, the evangelist, is a most delightful speaker. He will preach Sunday on the following themes:

Morning, 10:45—"Jesus, the Divine One."

Afternoon, 2:30—"Jesus Knows It's"

Evening, 7:00—"Jesus' Name."

Mr. W. Hall Strode will sing a solo in the morning and Mr. Robert A. Cochran at night.

All are invited to all services, especially the afternoon service, which does not conflict with any other service.

COAL AND LOCOMOTIVES

"The way to move coal, as a level-headed editor remarks, "is to move coal."

Coal is moved by locomotives. The reason there isn't coal enough being delivered to factories, schools, offices and homes is simply that there are not enough locomotives hauling coal cars.

Talk of a coal shortage is largely deceptive. There are tens of thousands of cars standing, loaded or empty, on railroad sidings. It's primarily an engine shortage.

There are enough locomotives in the country to haul the coal. The only trouble is that so many of them are being used for hauling passenger trains. A passenger locomotive is not so good as a freight locomotive for pulling heavy loads, but it will do in emergency. Experts say that if about half of our passenger engines were hitched to freight trains for a few days—or possibly for a few weeks—the whole fuel and freight situation would be straightened out.

Thus the problem simmers down to the relative importance of passenger and freight service. And how many of us think it's more necessary just now to travel around than it is to haul freight?

Most of the railroad journeys we take are not imperative. This is not time for pleasure jaunts. As for business trips, most of them can be saved by a proper use of the logical substitutes, the mails, the telegraph and the long-distance telephone. There is less need to travel than ever before. And if we must travel, there's the automobile.

Why not cut down the country's passenger service a half or a third, releasing a corresponding number of locomotives for this vital work? The government has the power. The railroad administration seems timid about so drastic a step. But there is no indication that the people, upon whom the privation will fall, are unwilling to stand it. They would prefer it to tireless homes, closed stores and idle factories.

If the celebrated Mr. Groundhog had anything to do with this last spell of weather, he's a hyphenated traitor, fit for the firing squad.

A THOROUGH TEST
One to Convince the Most Skeptical
Maysville Reader.

The test of time is the test that counts.

Doan's Kidney Pills have made their reputation by effective action. The following case is typical.

Maysville residents should be convinced.

The testimony is confirmed—the proof complete.

Testimony like this cannot be ignored.

Henry S. Gallenstein, blacksmith, 124 W. Third St., Maysville, says: "My kidneys wore out of order and I had pains through my back. Doan's Kidney Pills put an entire stop to the pains and my kidneys became well." (Statement given January 9, 1912).

RESULTS THAT REMAIN

Over four years later, or on November 14, 1916, Mr. Gallenstein said: "I haven't had any need of a kidney medicine since I last recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. The benefit they gave me has been permanent."

Mr. Gallenstein is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, the same that Mr. Gallenstein had—the remedy backed by home testimony, 60 cents at all stores. CUT WOOD AND IMPROVE THE WOODLANDS

If a man is cutting wood for use on the farm, such as firewood, etc., there is almost always more than enough of the class of diseased, crooked and inferior trees to supply his needs. This type of timber when removed not only gives needed space for the better growth of the finer class of trees which are left, but also removes the breeding places of insects which attack and injure forest growth. If a man wishes to improve his woodlands, he must leave the best species and the best thrifty trees of those species in the stands wherever practicable.

In the second place, there must be better protection of the woods. One very common form of injury to woodlands, and one of the worst, is that of burning over. Everyone knows the fertility in the new ground. This is due to the denuded vegetation which has accumulated before the ground was cleared. Not only does the ground obtain decayed vegetable matter, but it also receives nitrogen from the decayed leaves. When fires burn through woodlands great injury is done, because they consume the leaf litter, destroying both vegetable humus and the nitrogen, and the ground is impoverished for the production of new tree growth, the result being a stunted stand. Where leaves have been burned off on any woods near the soil becomes, in many cases, hard and baked, and this also is an unfavorable condition for the best production of wood and timber. Another result of fire is the injury done directly to the trees. Hollow, rotten timber filled with insects at the butt is frequently broken off by the wind, a too common sight. Insects find lodgings in these burned places and cause disease, if not death. Even when fires are small and the tree heat over, a scarred and diseased condition remains, from which the timber never recovers. These conditions can be prevented by definitely protecting the woodlands against fire, both by care in not setting fire and by putting them out when they have started.

HEROES OF WAR.

Telling of his experience in a French hospital, Coningsby Dawson, Lieutenant in the Canadian Field Artillery, pays high tribute to the courage and selflessness of the wounded men. He writes in Good Housekeeping:

"Men forget their own infirmities in their endeavor to help each other. Before the war we had a phrase which has taken on a new meaning now; we used to talk about 'lending a hand.' Today we lend not only hands, but arms and eyes and legs. The wonderful comradeship learned in the trenches has taught men to lend their bodies to each other—out of two maimed bodies to make up one that is whole, sound, and shared. You saw this all the time in hospital. A man who had only one leg would put up with a man who had only one arm. The one-armed man would wheel the one-legged man about the garden in a chair; at meal-times the one-legged man would cut up the one-armed man's food for him. They had both lost something, but by pooling what was left they managed to own a complete body."

"There is a point I want to make clear before I forget it. All these men, whether they are capturing Hun dug-outs at the Front or taking prisoner their own despair in English hospitals, are perfectly ordinary and normal. Before the war they were shop-assistants, cab-drivers, plumbers, lawyers, vaudeville artists. They were men of no heroic training. But something has happened to them since they marched away in khaki—something that has changed them. They are as completely remade as St. Paul was after he had his vision on the road to Damascus. They have brought their vision back with them to civilian life, despite the lost arms and legs which they scarcely seem to regret; their souls still triumph over the bodily and the temporal.

"Often at the Front I have thought of Christ's own explanation of His own unassassable peace—an explanation given to His disciples at the Last Supper, immediately before the walk to Gethsemane, 'Be of good cheer I have overcome the world.' Overcoming the world, as I understand it, is overcoming self. Fear, in its final analysis, is nothing but selfishness. A man who is afraid in an attack isn't thinking of his pals and how quickly terror spreads; he isn't thinking of the glory that will accrue to his regiment or division if the attack is a success; he isn't thinking of what he can do to contribute to that success; he isn't thinking of the splendor of forcing his spirit to triumph over weariness and nerves and the abominations that the Hunns are chucking at him. He's thinking merely of how he can save his worthless skill and conduct his entirely unimportant body to a place where there are no shells.

"In London as I saw the workaday, unconscious nobility of the maimed and wounded, the words, 'I have overcome the world,' took an added depth. All these men have an 'I-have-overcome-the-world' look in their faces. It is comparatively easy for a soldier with traditions and ideals at his back to face death calmly, to be calm in the face of life, as these chaps are. Takes a graver courage."

EVERY TIME WE WINK WE GIVE THE EYE A BATH

Every few seconds we wink both our eyelids at once, although not purposely. If we stop winking, our eyes become uncomfortable and gradually cease to work as they should. When the eye is open the front of it is exposed to dirt and dust and is apt to become so dry that a painful sensation results or would do so if constant moisture were not provided to cleanse and soothe those tissues.

As a matter of fact each time we wink we wash the eye, says the Popu-

VOLCANOES IN ARIZONA

An interesting report on the San Francisco volcano field, Arizona, an area of about 3,000 square miles south of the Grand Canyon of the Colorado, is available for free distribution by the United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior. This report—Professional Paper 76—contains a brief description of the geography of the field and gives detailed descriptions of the volcanoes and lava fields. It relates the volcanic history of the region and correlates the periods of eruption with the general history of the surrounding country. There have been three general periods of volcanic activity in the San Francisco volcano field, each followed by an interval of uplift and erosion. The latest outbreak doubtless represents the final feeble eruptions in a long cycle of volcanism.

The Terrible Pains in Back and Sides. Cardui Gave Relief.

Marksville, La.—Mrs. Alice Johnson, of this place, writes: "For one year I suffered with an awful misery in my back and sides. My left side was hurting me all the time. The misery was something awful.

I could not do anything, not even sleep at night. It kept me awake most of the night... I took different medicines, but nothing did any good or relieved me until I took Cardui..."

I could not do anything, not even sleep at night. It kept me awake most of the night... I took different medicines, but nothing did any good or relieved me until I took Cardui..."

I was not able to do any of my work for one year and I got worse all the time, was confined to my bed and on. I got so bad with my back that when I stooped down I was not able to straighten up again... I decided I would try Cardui...

... By time I had taken the entire bottle I was feeling pretty good and could straighten up and my pains were nearly all gone.

I shall always praise Cardui. I continued taking it until I was strong and well..." If you suffer from pains due to female complaints, Cardui may be just what you need. Thousands of women who once suffered in this way now praise Cardui for their present good health.

Give it a trial.

VERNON CASTLE KILLED

In Airplane Accident—Met Death
While Flying at Aviation Camp Near Fort Worth, Texas.

Fort Worth, Texas, February 15.—Capt. Vernon Castle, of the English Royal Flying Corps, was killed this morning while flying fifteen miles west of Fort Worth.

Castle, in trying to avoid a cadet, swerved his machine beyond his control, fell and was unable to right himself. The cadet was an American, but was being instructed by the British. The accident happened close by the Benbrook field. The cadet was uninjured.

Vernon Castle had a national reputation as a dancer. With his wife, also a graceful dancer, he attained great popularity several years ago as a teacher of modern dances. When the war broke out both of the Castles became interested in war work, and Mr. Castle took up aviation.

He was granted an aviator's pilot license by the Aero Club of America February 9, 1916, after having made a satisfactory record in test flights. His right name was Vernon Blythe. Soon after receiving his aviator license he sailed from New York for England to join the British aerial service. In March, of 1916, he was appointed a temporary lieutenant in the British Royal Flying Corps. Shortly afterward there came a report of his death while flying in France.

Castle returned from the French front in April, 1917, and joined the royal flying corps in Canada as an instructor, with the rank of captain. The following month he was reported to have had a narrow escape from death in an accident while flying at Camp Mohawk. The cadet who was flying with Capt. Castle in the machine at the time was killed.

When a Canadian contingent of the flying corps was transferred to Texas last fall for winter training, Capt. Castle went with it as an instructor.

Mrs. Castle, who is now one of the star actresses of a motion picture concern, was prostrated upon receiving the news of her husband's death.

RUSSIA MUST FIGHT AGAIN
German Leaders Have Decided to Take Petrograd—Effort Will Be Made to Dismember Nation and Overthrow Bolsheviks.

London, February 15.—Peace on German terms having been refused
by the Bolshevik Government, Germany will again take up military operations against Northern Russia.
This resolution is said to have been agreed to at a conference in Imperial headquarters under Emperor Wilhelm and military and political leaders. Petrograd probably will be the objective of the new invasion.

The negotiations at Brest-Litovsk broke in a stormy session, after which Leon Trotsky, the Bolshevik Minister, enunciated a plan of "no war, but no peace." This was rejected by Germany, which holds that Trotsky's declaration ended the armistice on the Russian front. The armistice expired Thursday.

It is indicated in Vienna dispatches
that the Central Powers made peace with the Ukraine in order to offset their diplomatic defeat at the hands of Trotsky. It is reported that Germany will support the Ukraine against the Bolsheviks. One German newspaper says that the Bolsheviks are moving against the Ukraine and there is little doubt that the Central Powers will use all means to protect the food supplies which they hope to obtain from the Ukraine. By allowing the Ukraine, Germany probably would not have to bring back from the western front more than a few of the divisions moved there recently from the east.

DANGEROUS HOLE IN SARDIS PIKE

Another complaint is being made of a cave-in of the Sardis pike near the point where it turns into the Lexington pike at Lee's creek. Mr. Frank Hall, star mail carrier from this city to Mt. Olivet, on his trip yesterday found it necessary to tear down a stone wall and fill up the gap before he could cross. On his return trip the rocks had all sunk and he had to repeat the performance. Another man had to put two big planks over the hole to get across. We wish to call the attention of the county road commissioner to this dangerous place, in order that it might be fixed.

COURT PROCEEDINGS ENJOINED

In the Mason Circuit Court yesterday William Bellas, etc., filed suit against the Keystone Fruit Products Company and Fred Dresel, Justice of the Peace of Mason county, asking that the judgment of the magistrate's court be set aside and further proceedings enjoined. The plaintiffs set forth in their petition that judgment was given before they had filed answer to the suit, which answer was being prepared and was in the office of Attorney John M. Calhoun, who was called into the service of the county before he had time to file the answer in the lower court.

The sermon topics for morning and evening are: "A Young Man's Temptation"
and "A Soldier's Petition."

Y. M. C. A. STUDY CLASS

Begun at Maysville High School Yesterday Afternoon With About Seveneen-five Boys Enrolled.

Friday, February 15, marked the beginning of the Y. M. C. A. Study Club in Maysville High School. In yesterday's issue there was an article explaining the plan and functions of this organization. In this article it was pointed out that Mr. H. C. Curran was elected leader and teacher and from the results of the first meeting we are sure that the boys made no mistake in their selection.

At 1 o'clock seventy-five enthusiastic boys met in the auditorium for their first mass meeting with a leader.
With a few well chosen remarks
in regard to the success of this organization and its purpose Mr. Edward Walton, the president, introduced Mr.
H. C. Curran. Mr. Curran spoke the entire period of one hour and not one of the seventy-five became tame.

He also spoke on endurance,
straight forward directness and closed his speech with mercy, quality, those famous lines from the Merchant of Venice, "The quality of mercy is not strained, it droppeth as the gentle rain from heaven upon the place beneath."

We all inclined to believe that old Maysville High School will win one of the cups, and who can tell maybe all of them, away we are sure that with such enthusiasm as was shown by both leader and boys that every one will be fully benefitted and that this little club in Maysville High School will ultimately be the forming of a Y. M. C. A. in Maysville.

Mr. Thomas A. Keith left this morning for Jacksonville, Fla., to visit his son, Lieutenant John Dudley Keith, who is slightly ill in the military hospital there.

COURT DAY CHANGED BACK TO MONDAY

By order of County Judge Harry P.
Purnell, County Court day has been changed back to the first Monday in the month instead of the first Tuesday. The change to Tuesday was made because of the order of the Fuel Administration declaring a holiday on Monday, causing all the local aer-

chants to close their stores and preventing the farmers from buying any merchandise. Court day was held on Tuesday for the first time this month,

and since the Monday closing order has been lifted, it was thought best to change back to Monday, as all the farmers and traders have gotten the habit of coming to town on that day.

There was a light fall of snow early
Monday, causing all the local aer-
